It is our pleasure to invite you to ALP's first peer learning session for the year 2022.

Under the Sub-National Integration Community of Practice (SNI CoP), ALP is organizing a peer learning session on Climate Action Planning that is specially targeted for representatives from local governments in the Asia-Pacific region.

The session will be held on 19 January, 2022 from 13:00-15:00 (IST); 14:30-16:30 (Bangkok). Register here.

Session description:

ICLEI – Local Governments for Sustainability is a global network of more than 2500 local and regional governments committed to sustainable urban development. Over the years ICLEI has been working to develop numerous tools, frameworks and networks to help local governments to generate evidence on the contributors of GHG emissions in the region as well as identify the most vulnerable sections. Based on the information generated, support has also been given to develop an action plan that includes climate mitigation and adaptation measures to be taken by the city, including resources and funding mechanisms.

In this session, a number of ICLEI's most popular climate action planning tools and methodologies will be presented by experts, along with an opportunity for participants to apply the methodologies to examples presented in the group discussions. The concept note and agenda can be accessed through this link.

We look forward to your active participation. Kindly circulate this invitation among your peers and others who may find value in attending this session.

Best regards,
ALP Secretariat
